BABCOCK ASSUMES BROWN'S POST AS PATROL DIRECTOR

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR WINDS UP DUTIES OF OFFICE TODAY

St. Paul, March 22.—(U.P.)—Earle Brown, organizer and head of the state highway patrol and Republican endorsee for the gubernatorial nomination, today was expected to wind up his duties with the patrol.

C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, said he expected to receive Brown's written resignation sometime during the day. Brown orally notified Babcock that he would resign shortly after the Republican party's endorsement Saturday.

Although the endorsement was considered effective last Saturday, Brown has continued to complete his immediate work with the patrol. Last night Brown was to Aitkin to present an illustrated lecture on the highway patrol's work.

With the state ticket agreed upon party members were working on plans for the party's convention April 30 at which delegates to the national convention will be selected.

Party leaders said today that a slate of nine congressional candidates may be drawn on April 30, if the United States supreme court rules that Minnesota has not been legally redistricted, and candidates must run at large.

EDUCATOR, WARTIME NAVY FLIER, BARED AS LINDBERGH AID

H. WALLACE CALDWELL REVEALED TO BE ASSISTING KIDNAPING INVESTIGATION

Hopewell, N. J., March 22.—(U.P.)—H. Wallace Caldwell, war time navy flier and former president of the Chicago board of education, is working as an investigator in the Lindbergh kidnapping case and believes he is in possession of the most important evidence yet found.

Caldwell has been in the case since last Thursday and was at the Lindbergh residence today.

"I possess certain information which I believe will be of great value," Caldwell said. "I presented it to Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh, Col. Schwartzkopf, and Gov. A. Harry Moore."

From a source other than Caldwell, it was learned that while in New York last night, he was trying to get in touch with Salvatore Spitalo and Irving Bitz, underworld figures designated by Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh as go-betweens in negotiations for the return of their kidnapped baby.

A classified "personal" ad published in New York today hinted that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has received evidence from kidnapers of his baby but that all other sources investigated the 22-day search had been futile.

Authorities declined to comment on the ad, apparently one of a series signed "Jafsie" which have appeared in the New York American and Bronx Home News.

The ad read: "Thanks. That little package you sent was immediately delivered and accepted as real article. See my position. Over fifty years in business and can I pay without seeing goods? Common sense makes me trust you. Please understand my position. Jafsie."

This might be interpreted to mean the kidnapers had sent some article to Lindbergh but were being informed he was unwilling to pay the ransom until he "saw the goods" and was convinced he would receive his own child back.

Yesterday Mrs. Lindbergh was visited by her sisters, the Misses Elizabeth and Constance Morrow. Constance is at home with her mother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, at Englewood, for the Easter holidays. She is a student at Smith college, Northampton, Mass.

Wets In Surprise Move For Resubmission Poll

McAdoo Confers With Speaker of House Garner

Washington, March 22.—(U.P.)—William Gibbs McAdoo, was time secretary of treasury, conferred today with Speaker of the House Garner, but denied that he had "talked politics" or discussed the Garner presidential boom.

McAdoo said, however, that he believed the Garner movement was gradually growing in strength in the west and predicted the Texan would win the California delegation to the Democratic convention.

OLSON ASSURED OF RENOMINATION BY FARMER - LABORITES

SUFFICIENT COUNTIES HAVE ENDORSED GOVERNOR TO MAKE SURE RACE

St. Paul, March 22.—(U.P.)—Enough Farmer-Labor county conventions have instructed their delegates to the March 29 endorsing convention to assure the renomination of Governor Floyd B. Olson, Henry G. Teigan, party leader, said today.

Teigan, who is editor of the Farmer-Labor Leader, said all but two or three county groups have endorsed Olson. Lieutenant Governor Henry Arens will probably win renomination, Teigan said, although it is possible Arens may run for congressman at large if the United States supreme court decides Minnesota has not been legally redistricted.

Dr. Peter Determan, mayor of Litchfield, also has been mentioned for lieutenant governor. Teigan said, Teigan and Elmer Johnson, Hibbing, are candidates for railroad and warehouse commissioner.

800 STRIKING COAL MINERS RETURN TO WORK AFTER 9 DAYS

NUMBER OF STRIKING MINERS REDUCED TO ABOUT 10,000 BY RETURN

Athens, O., March 22.—(U.P.)—A railroad switch to Millfield mine No. 6 was ripped from the ground by an explosion of dynamite today in a renewal of violence in the Hocking Valley coal strike area.

Sabotage was directed against No. 6, one of 40 mines closed by a strike of 7,000 miners, when its owners, the Sunday Creek Coal company, were reported planning to resume operation.

Wilkes Barre, Pa., March 22.—(U.P.)—The first break in the insurgent strike of anthracite miners occurred today when more than 800 employees of Maxwell colliery returned to work, after being aligned with the strike for nine days.

Unmindful of jeers and hoots from pickets who stood in a pouring rain, the Maxwell miners marched by the men and women who attempted to button-hole them and entered the pits.

Officials of the United Mine Workers and coal operators announced that the number of strikers in district No. 1 has been reduced to about 10,000. Another 5,000 were idle because of mines being closed for lack of coal orders or the high cost of operation.

Leaders of the outlaw strike, however, contended there had been little change in the situation and that nearly 40,000 men were on strike.

Wayne King United With Doris Janis, Screen Star

Chicago, March 22.—(U.P.)—Wayne King, orchestra leader, who swore two years ago that he wouldn't marry until he was 40, and Dorothy Jones, screen star known as Dorothy Janis, were honeymooning today amid the snows of King's northern Wisconsin farm.

They were married at Highland Park yesterday.

King, who gave his age as 31, paid $2,000 to W. H. Stein, vice president of the Music Corporation of America, as a forfeit for violating their agreement that neither would marry before the age of 40.

Massachusetts Tables Beer Bill Pending Congress Action

Boston, March 22.—(U.P.)—The state senate, by a vote of 20 to 16, has tabled the so-called Massachusetts beer bill pending action by congress on the federal beer bill. The bill is designed to legalize the sale of 4% per cent beer in Massachusetts.

Washington, Mar. 22.—(U.P.)—Prohibition suddenly became a live issue in the senate today as wets started a surprise offensive, campaigning on two fronts for show down wet and dry votes.

Senator Tydings, dem., Md., one of the senate's handsome bachelors, obtained in an hour yesterday afternoon approximately 20 signatures to a petition for action on resolutions to re-submit the 18th amendment to the states. He will move that the judiciary committee report them to the floor.

All who signed were not anti-prohibitionists. Among them was Senator Watson, rep., Ind., majority leader. Tydings is confident of more sign-

Washington, Mar. 22.—(U.P.)—Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin moved in the senate today to reduce the federal appropriation for enforcement of prohibition from $1,369,000 to $250,000. Blaine said that the smaller sum would be required to enable the justice department to pass on requests for industrial alcohol permits and other matters of that kind.

natures today. He told the United Press he believed a re-submission resolution would have 30 to 35 senate votes.

Senator Blaine, rep., Wis., captains the other anti-dry sortie. He proposes a motion to reduce the justice department prohibition enforcement appropriation by $11,000,000. That would leave Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, dry director, just $369,000. Blaine says the law is "foolish and futile" and money spent on enforcement is wasted.

Senator McKellar, dem., Tenn., who offered the 10 per cent appropriations reduction program, announced he would not apply it to Woodcock's millions.

Coincident with these developments republican leaders tentatively plan to adjourn June 10 by scuttling most pending legislation except tax and appropriation bills. Well informed senate opinion reflects the view that numerous senators on both sides are reluctant in a presidential year to go on record on some extremely controversial questions.

If there was time for any legislation at all after disposing of tax and supply bills, the senate could choose from among pending important issues the democratic tariff bill, Philippine independence and bills to create a home loan discount bank system, for disposition of Muscle Shoals, for naval construction, regulation of interstate bus and truck traffic or the class bill to regulate national and federal reserve banks.

APACHE FACES LIFE TERM FOR MURDER

Globe, Ariz., March 22.—(U.P.)—Colney (Mac) Seymour, Apache Indian youth, today was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in a federal penitentiary, probably at McNeil Island, Washington, for the murder of Henrietta Schmerler, Columbia university co-ed.

Globe, Ariz., March 22.—(U.P.)—Convicted of first degree murder with a recommendation for clemency, Colney "Mac" Seymour, Apache Indian youth, today faced life imprisonment for the death of Henrietta Schmerler, Columbia university student.

After six hours deliberation, a jury in federal court found him guilty last night of having killed Miss Schmerler, but in declining to bring an unaccompanied verdict apparently believed intimacy with the girl and killed during the struggle which followed his attack.

The government tried unavailingly to get a hanging verdict, the defense failing to get an acquittal. Seymour's defense was that the girl made a tragic blunder in going off with him on the back of his horse in defiance of Apache custom.

VESSEL STEAMS PORT WITH ITS HOLD AFIRE

New York, March 22.—(U.P.)—The freighter an Angelo, her third hold afire, is proceeding to Balboa, Canal Zone, under her own power, according to a message intercepted today by the New York office of the Mackay Radio company.

The freighter Fairfield is standing by the San Angelo, whose position was given in the message as off Cape Mala, on the west coast of Panama, about 100 miles from Balboa. The freighter San Lucas, previously reported as at the scene, has proceeded up the west coast.

The San Angelo, a freighter of 5,657 tons, carries a crew of 34 men. It is owned by the States Steamship company of Portland, Oregon, which also owns the Fairfield and the San Lucas. The San Angelo was built in Seattle, Wash., and is 409 feet long.

WINDS CYCLONIC VIOLENCE DEAL DEATH, DESTRUCTION IN WIDE AREA

Survey Places Storm Casualties at 200 With Death Toll Mounting Hourly in Five States

(By United Press)

More than 200 persons have been killed in terrific storms raging over a great portion of the United States in the past 36 hours.

Cyclonic winds in the south dealt death and destruction over five states. The death toll mounts hourly. Hundreds are receiving hospital care in temporary quarters. All relief agencies are attempting to bring order out of the destruction.

Elsewhere through the nation, blizzards, sleet and snow storms have accounted for deaths. The snowstorm stopped in the midwest, however, before traffic became paralyzed.

The spring blizzard spread into Canada and drifted snow filled streets in Montreal.

The United Press survey shows the following storm casualties: Alabama, 149; Georgia, 28; Tennessee, 13; Chicago, 5; Indiana, 3; Michigan, 3; Ohio, 3; Kentucky, 2; South Carolina, 1; Buffalo, N. Y., 1.

Man Says He's Busy, Judge Excuses Him

Austin, Tex., Mar. 22.—(U.P.)—"I am a busy man, your honor," R. L. Peisker told District Judge W. L. Robertson in explaining why he should not serve on a jury. "Excused," replied the judge. "Any one who is busy these days should not be kept for jury duty."

TRUNK MURDERESS RETURNED TO CELL AFTER OUTBURSTS

MRS. JUDD QUELLED AFTER BLASTS OF INCOHERENT TALK BEFORE JUDGE

Phoenix, Ariz., March 22.—Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted murderess, was back in a cell today after a tempestuous outburst which abruptly terminated what may be her last appearance in court.

She was given two opportunities yesterday to address the public, opportunities she embraced with zeal if not coherence.

The first occurred when she appeared before Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman, in whose court six weeks ago she was convicted of the murder of Agnes Anne Leroy.

She had been summoned at the demand of County Attorney Lloyd Andrews that she give an accounting of her finances, past and present. Mrs. Judd had taken the pauper's oath when she entered her appeal.

The hearing was dismissed before it began when Defense Counsel Herman Lewkowitz pointed out that Andrews had waited beyond the interim allowed by law to start the action. Judge Speakman was in the act of consenting to Lewkowitz's motion for dismissal when Andrews rose to his feet. He began to speak, when Mrs. Judd sprang from her chair.

"Oh, you'd try to protect a political friend of yours, wouldn't you?" she screamed. "Well, you can't!"

The thunder of Judge Speakman's gavel drowned the rest. She whipped around to face the bench.

"Oh, you'd like to make me stop, wouldn't you?" she cried.

"Well, you can't. I'm here to talk, and I'm going to talk!"

A cordon of bailiffs and undersheriffs reached her just then, and her husband, Dr. William C. Judd, clapped his hand over her mouth.

Texas Farmer and Wife Found Beaten to Death

Tyler, Tex., March 22.—(U.P.)—George Bradley, German farmer living two miles east of Arp, and his wife were found today beaten to death apparently with a flation.

The woman's body was found on a bedroom floor with her right hand clutching a pencil. On a magazine nearby was scrawled "negro killed me." Investigators believed the woman had been attacked before being slain.

Postal Clerk Released on Bond Pending Jury Action

St. Paul, March 22.—(U.P.)—Sylvester C. Cloney, clerk in the Stillwater post office, is free on $1,000 bond pending action by a federal grand jury. Cloney was arraigned yesterday on charges of stealing letters from the mails.

MAIN STORM HITS CENTRAL ALABAMA, THEN INTO GEORGIA

WINDS AND RAINS GENERAL OVER AFFECTED AREA HAMPER WORKS OF RELIEVERS

Atlanta, Ga., March 22.—(U.P.)—Twenty widely separated communities in four states of the old south counted more than 200 dead and hundreds injured today from storms of cyclonic violence which ripped through the area late Monday and early today.

The main storm struck in Central Alabama, where the dead totaled 150. It then dipped into Georgia causing at least 23 fatalities. An off shoot of the disturbance killed 11 in Tennessee and two in Kentucky.

The winds and rains was general over the affected area, badly hampering relief workers and delaying reports of damage from the most critically stricken towns.

The Red Cross sent its emergency organization into action, speeding medical supplies, tents, coats and other necessities into the stricken area.

Rescue parties picked their way over wreckage-strewn roads to isolated crossroads settlements and farm homes in Alabama, fearing to find unreported instances of death and destruction at the isolated homes.

One of the first rural areas to be searched was around a crossroads near Northport, where it was found that a negro had been killed and his general store robbed of merchandise. Such thievery was rare, however.

Washington, March 22.—(U.P.)—Information regarding loss of life and property damage in the storm-swept areas of Alabama was asked today by Senator Hugo Black, Democrat, Alabama, as a basis for "possible federal aid if such is found necessary to relieve the stricken."

Black sought the information through messages wired Governor Miller, the field director of the American Red Cross in Birmingham and probate judges in the area.

Seek Shelter for Serious

The first concern of relief workers, after removing the injured to places of safety, was to find shelter for the thousands of homeless. More than 750 persons were left without roofs over their heads in Northport alone. The problem of their care was largely solved by the willingness with which the more fortunate offered to share quarters.

However, this generosity left hundreds without adequate quarters, so public and semi-public buildings were converted into dormitories and temporary kitchens.

Clanton, Ala., March 22.—(U.P.)—Cyclonic storms that whirled through the Southland late Monday swept more than 100 persons to their death, injured 200 or more, and crumbled homes in at least twelve nearby towns, relief workers reported today.

Twisting eddies from the main storm killed and injured others in sections as widely separated as points in Kentucky, Tennessee, Eastern Mississippi and isolated communities in Alabama.

The more southerly branch of the storm wandered off toward Athens, seat of the University of Georgia, where five persons, three white, were killed. The windstorm killed seven others at Comer, Ga., nearby. Fifteen storm victims were under treatment in Athens hospitals.

Casualty reports were increasing hourly. Sheriff W. H. Gillespie of Zhilonton county declared:

"The death toll in my county will reach 75, with 500 injured when final reports are in."

He based his estimate on the fact that each new area penetrated today by relief workers revealed increased loss of life and property damage.

Caught in Falling Homes
Northport, just across the Black Warrior river from Tuscaloosa, home of the state university, and this community, 60 miles southeast of Northport, were hardest hit.

Many injured, caught in falling homes or buildings, or swept from their feet and hurled into twisted masses of wreckage as reported in some communities, were reported dying.

Their experiences were similar to those related today by Obie Willis, a farmer living near Collins Chapel, and brought into this community with the maimed body of his mother, who was killed, his dying wife, and his father, who was critically injured.

The tragic experiences of Farmer Willis were repeated by the scores in each stricken community. Cots, beds, all available medicines and surgical instruments and supplies were rushed into the district. Nurses and physicians and surgeons, from every large community hurried into towns where local medical help was not nearly sufficient to care for the injured. Meanwhile, authorities charted the course of the winds that brought disaster to the state.

The storm was first reported at Linden and Myrtlewood, two small communities about 40 miles east of Meridian, Miss., they are slightly south of the center of the state.

At this point the storm apparently split, one part moving 15 miles directly north to Demopolis where there was little damage, then on 40 miles to Northport where many were killed and hurt.

The other section of the storm headed northwest from Linden to Myrtlewood, 10 miles on to Faunsdale, another 15 miles to Marion, and then it turned almost straight east 25 miles to this town and Thorsby. From here it moved north to Columbiana, only 20 miles from Birmingham.

An off shoot of the storm hit Cullman, 50 miles north of Birmingham, while high winds and lightning broke communication lines all through the south, especially in east Tennessee and north Georgia.

Crow Wing Gas Tax Refund $45,700.00

$18,970 ADDITIONAL RECEIVED FROM MILL TAX FUND; $10,000 FOR PINE BEACH ROAD

The total allotment of gasoline tax aid to counties of the state for this year will be $4,325,000 as compared with $3,206,000 a year ago, the state highway department announced today.

The share of the gas tax receipts which amounted to $3,600,000 was increased by an additional $725,000 caused by an excess of receipts over the estimate used in making allotment last year. The total allotted from the one mill tax fund for state highway aid is $1,897,000.

Half of the allotments will be paid in August and the other half next February. Special allotments were made to a number of counties on request of county boards to take care of local projects of more than local importance.

The allotments included:

County	Amount One Mill Tax in County	Allotment From State Aid Gas Tax Fund	From Mill Tax Fund
Clay	$ 14,190	$ 53,400	$18,970
Crow Wing	11,929	45,700	18,970
Goodhue	23,337	38,000	23,337
Morrison	11,202	26,500	18,970
Rice	18,119	32,437	18,970
Stearns	30,650	69,500	30,650
St. Louis	313,845	129,750	56,910
Washington	11,236	32,437	18,970

Special allotments included $10,000 to Goodhue county for repair of the interstate bridge at Red Wing; $10,000 to Morrison county for construction of the state aid road No. 5 (Pierz Road). $10,000 to Crow Wing county for construction of county aid road No. 19 (Pine Beach Road).

Other allotments included $10,000 to Morrison county for treatment of Camp Ripley road; $10,000 for Rice county for work on C. A. R. No. 55, 65, 68 and 69. Todd County received $10,000 for construction of Little Falls-Long Prairie road.

PROBE PHASES JURY COUNCIL MORALLY SERVICE FOR WOMEN SUPPORTS NATION AT MEET MARCH 29 DEFENSE BUDGET

The League of Women Voters will hold a meeting in the cafeteria of the high school, March 29 at 8 p. m., to which both men and women are invited. The subject under consideration will be jury service for women, and the speaker will be Arthur J. Sullivan, county attorney.

Since the Mrs. Clarke episode during the Foshay trial there has been a marked falling off of women's names on the juries of Crow Wing county, as elsewhere. This is probably a natural, but an illogical, reaction and it calls for investigation.

Further details of this meeting and of those having it in charge will be given later.

BAPTISTS OPEN HOME SERVICES TONIGHT

The first of a series of three home meetings, under the auspices of the First Baptist church, will be conducted this evening at the Mrs. A. Angel residence, 424 So. 7th street, at 7:45 o'clock.

These meetings are a part of the program of the church in its observance of Passion Week, and are open for all who may care to attend.

Brief messages will be presented by the minister, Rev. Edgar A. Valiant, in connection with the services.

ATTENDANCE GROWS AT PASSION WEEK OBSERVANCES HERE

Owing to the large attendance yesterday at the first meeting of the Brainerd Passion Week observance, an attendance close to triple of what it was the first day last year, the committee on arrangements has made provision for a larger seating capacity at the downtown location in the Webb block.

Today's meeting was led by Rev. P. G. Fallquist of the Swedish Bethany church, with Rev. C. M. Brandon of St. Paul's Episcopal church reading scripture and offering the prayer.

In his message today Rev. Carl J. Ackerman of Temple Baptist church referred to the challenge of Christ's authority, and His answer to the challenge, the spiritual status of the people before God, their rejection of Kingdom claims, giving an exposition of the parable of the marriage feast. He concluded his remarks with an invitation to the call of the gospel, saying, "All are called but they only truly accept, who, in so doing, yield themselves to God to be as He wills, to do as He commands, to live as He ordains."

The meeting tomorrow will be addressed by Captain Thomas, with Ira L. Peterson presiding and Rev. Walter Smith reading the scripture and offering prayer.

JUNK THE CITY CHARTER—

There is a time worn axiom that age enhances the value of a thing but in the case of the Brainerd city charter this has been overshadowed in the knowledge that trend of modern development and efficiency has given cause for the junking of the obsolete and antiquated charter now in use.

Of course, some amendments tacked to the original document in recent years has brought a vestige of modern business in the charter but these are far burdened by the voluminous and unnecessary phases that make up the bulk of the charter. The few amendments that constitute consideration for renewal in the old charter will form a nucleus around which to build a new set of administrative rules but, as a whole, the old charter is worth but little as it stands.

As a matter of fact, the Brainerd city statutes are so old and archaic and confusing and have been amended and changed so many times that nobody knows what all the laws are and what their original purpose was. With this condition existing, The Daily Dispatch believes, that now is the time to remedy this situation and to make Brainerd a modern unit operating upon the most modern principles of administrative regulation.

Brainerd needs a new city charter and needs it badly. It needs a new and up-to-date constitution which will fit present conditions and future requirements and Brainerd needs to revise the statutes weeding out the ancient and obsolete laws and to compel some semblance of efficiency in city government.

THE CAPONE BUNK—

Just why a cheap and cowardly murderer—who happens thru the breakdown of Illinois justice and the accident of federal intervention to be in Cook County Jail instead of on his way to the gallows—should be given major attention in the Lindbergh case by American newspapers, we do not know, says the Cleveland Press.

We refer to Alphonse Capone and his offer to "do his bit" to bring back the Lindbergh baby.

This Capone, like the rest of them, is a cheap little crook, a wholesale murderer, who has been turned up out of the slime of a great city, only because high-powered guns and other mechanical devices of a mechanical age have made it possible for little men to put up brave fronts behind steel barricades and machine guns.

All of us tolerated Col. Lindbergh's move to use the New York gangsters, because we felt deeply for him in his distress, and could have no censure for anything to which he thought he could pin hope.

But those gangsters are being thoroly deflated. They have done nothing except to get their pictures in the papers along with a lot of lush nonsense about their lives as "big shots."

Now this Capone stuff is too much. We sincerely hope that Col. Lindbergh doesn't deal with this cheap Chicago show-off, and we don't think he will.

As for this newspaper, we will continue to give Capone in this case just about the mention his underhand attempt to deal himself out of jail deserves, and that will be very little.

The United Press, which serves The Daily Dispatch has already declared against the glorification of the Capone story, in fact, refused even to honor it with publication when it first came out as rumor.

Reading of our columns will clearly indicate that we do not give much value as news to this cheap bunk out of Chicago, which is exactly our feeling.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS—

A Philadelphia department store executive the other day announced that the America of the future will be a nation of players instead of workers.

Men will work three hours a day, he said, and play the rest of the time. There will be no hurry, no nervous strain, no rush, no poverty, no business depressions—everything, in fact, will be pretty nearly ideal.

The present is, perhaps, a rather unfortunate moment to be getting predictions of that kind. There are a good many millions of Americans today who ask nothing more of the future than that it give them a job—any kind of a job, with long hours and poor pay, if necessary, so long as it supports them.

But the interesting thing about it all is that there is a large measure of truth in this Philadelphian's forecast.

That fact makes the existing depression more exasperating than any previous one; but it also makes it easier for people to tighten their belts and look to the future.

We are, right now, so far from the ideal state described above that we have around 8,000,000 unemployed. Yet it has been growing more clear every year that there is no solid, material reason why every item on that glittering program cannot be turned into a reality.

It is technically possible, today, for the nation's workmen to produce enough of everything, necessities and luxuries together, to go around, without working at anything like full capacity.

At the moment, that means misery, unemployment, want. But it can be translated into a tremendous opportunity. Sooner or later we shall find out how to turn our unparalleled productiveness—the cause of most of our trouble today—into a genuine asset instead of a liability.

When that day comes, a program like the one outlined here will go into effect easily and naturally. It is physically possible right now. All that is needed is the proper kind of planning, the right kind of directing genius.

To be sure, the job won't be done overnight. But we need to cling to a realization of the fact that it can be done. A hope like that can make the business of waiting for prosperity a whole lot easier.

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELLEN ROSSITER, beautiful 20-year-old, fair-haired girl, who has just been hired by LARRY HARROWGATE, young artist, whom she met at Dreamland where she works as a dance hall hostess. He is engaged to ELIZABETH BOWEN, a debutante, but shows attentions to Ellen until his fiancée returns from Europe.

From a sense of gratitude Ellen agrees to marry STEVEN BARCLAY, a kind and wealthy man of 57, who has paid hospital expenses for her brother, MIKE, injured in a street accident. Barclay also finds a job for BERT ARMSTEAD, Ellen's sister's fiancé. The girl convinces herself that gratitude can take the place of love.

Barclay has been married and divorced. Scandal accompanied his divorce from LIDA GRAYSON, a notorious dancer. Fearing this talk may be revived, he and Ellen agree to keep their marriage secret. Myra and Ellen are to be married the same day as Ellen and Barclay.

Ellen goes to the offices of SYMES & ARMSTRONG, Barclay's lawyers, where her fiancé is to sign papers settling a private fortune upon her. On the way, she meets a friend, Larry, who bursts into tears. She sends Larry a note telling him that she is to be married.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXII

ELLEN walked slowly to the Park Avenue law office. When she entered the luxurious, oak-paneled rooms and saw Steven sitting in an armchair, looking tired and worn, her mind suddenly played traitor.

She found herself thinking of Larry who never tired, who could dance till dawn and by 10 o'clock be avid for tennis, swimming, boating. She thought of Larry who had lied to her in deed if not in words, of Larry who had dragged her pride into the dust, of Larry who had left her to bear her heart-break as best she could.

She admired Steven, respected him, liked him, but what was to come of this union now that she knew she had not forgotten and could not forget a scamp? Steven turned to smile at her.

"Did you have a good time, darling?" he asked.

"It was simply marvelous. Wait till you see what I bought!"

"Sorry I couldn't tag along," he remarked, rising, "but I've been feeling a little seedy and the doctor thought I'd best rest up."

"You aren't ill!" she exclaimed in alarm.

"Certainly not," he laughed. "But I told you in the beginning I'm a poor matrimonial risk. My heart's an old crock and has been ever since I strained it diving—more years ago than I want to tell."

Preoccupied with her own doubts, Ellen was easily reassured.

She turned, faced Louis Symes and promptly disliked him. This graying, thin-faced man had handled Steven Barclay's legal affairs for years. The girl knew instinctively what Steven did not guess. Despite Symes' suave politeness she understood he believed his client to be making an unfortunate mistake.

As soon as it was possible Ellen attempted to clarify her own position. Steven and Symes were discussing figures and properties she could not comprehend. She plucked at Steven's sleeve.

"I don't need a private checking account," she said with dignity. "If I need anything there is no reason why I can't come to you and ask you for it."

Symes stared at her cynically. But Steven was impatient.

"It's all settled," he said. "The papers are to be signed this afternoon."

"There's a little more to it than that," Steven put in. The lawyer began again to talk of insurance, of buildings located here, of land located there, of trusts, of holding companies. And always where one word would have served he used three. Ellen's head began to spin. All that she grasped was that a staggering sum of money was to be settled on her outright—far, far too much. She did not want so much. The very thought of such sums frightened and bewildered her. Still she dared not intrude in the conversation. She could only sit there, inwardly resentful and rebellious.

"Bring on the papers," Steven said at length. "Ellen is bored to tears. But it will be only a few minutes now, dear," he promised, turning to her. Then to Symes again, "I'd like to sign the will, too."

Symes glanced at his watch. "They aren't all ready yet," he said. "Would you mind waiting a few minutes?"

"I would mind," Ellen spoke up frankly. "I'm really tired." She appealed to Steven. "Do let's go and come back tomorrow or on the day we sail."

He might have argued but something wistful and weary in her face checked him. Steven gave in. The settlements could be left until the day following the wedding. Ellen took a malicious delight in the lawyer's surprise that she, who had everything to gain, wished for delay.

"Do you know," she said to Steven after they were out on the street, "I wish you weren't so frightfully rich."

"You've been so strange all afternoon," he complained, vaguely apprehensive. "You don't mean—"

"I don't mean anything," she interrupted. "I only mean I don't want so much money. It's indecent to be so poor and then all at once just because you get married to become so rich."

She put it childishly and he laughed at her.

"I couldn't understand half you were saying," she admitted sulkily. "But I gathered that your sister and your nephew were going to lose a lot of money just because—"

"My dear, that is something you must let me decide," he said. "I am only taking a step I have long contemplated. My sister will by no means be left in poverty. But you, as my wife, must come West."

Somehow Ellen was not thrilled as usual by his desire to care for her, to protect her. She was not a delicate bit of rare porcelain that he should speak of her in that hushed tone. She had earned her own living and, if necessary, could earn it again. The interview with the lawyer had been disheartening. Horrible to sit with a man who clearly believes you to be a cheap and greedy little gold-digger. . . .

There was an unpleasant side to having money, decidedly an unpleasant side. As Steven assisted her into his car Ellen felt just a little as if she were being slowly buried beneath golden piles of money. There was something frightening in the reflection that there was literally nothing in the world for sale which she could not buy. Such a condition was stultifying to the imagination, stultifying to desire and ambition. She understood just then why Myra had said so proudly that she and Bert were young and strong and did not wish to have things made easy for them.

But gradually Ellen became aware that her mood was depressing and bewildering Steven. He had sunk back gloomily into the cushions and was staring straight ahead and away from her. It was her job to make him happy. With her eyes wide open she had chosen that job. She set about bringing him to good humor again with charm and artifice so that in the end, over the dinner table, they were laughing and talking and things were all right again.

All right, that is, with Steven. After dinner he sent her out to Brooklyn in his car but alone. She was glad of the chance to be alone, glad of the chance to face her own situation, to face her own soul. In the end she decided what any Rosier would decide. She would tread the path she had chosen and with courage and with grace. There should be no more of those moods to make Steven puzzled and unhappy.

Home and in the shabby hall, she was struck again with the contradictions in herself. For she could not help comparing this place that was her home with the rich offices of Steven's lawyers, with the subdued, gracefully beautiful restaurant where they had dined, with the interiors of the smart Fifth Avenue shops. She walked slowly up the stairs. Mrs. Clancy popped out of her apartment as she passed and called to her.

"Your ma's home and Myra, too," she observed.

Ellen looked surprised. "Mike decided he'd be a man and stay there at the hospital by himself," chuckled the Irishwoman. "Funny thing—your maw's tickled pink she's so proud of him."

Ellen had started on again. But Mrs. Clancy had more to say. She was evidently somewhat embarrassed for she kept twisting and twisting her apron.

"I think you got a guest up there, too," she whispered with a conspiratorial air. "I—well, I didn't manage to see him good but I think it's that same young fellow was here for you a couple weeks ago."

Ellen felt that she was suffocating as she stammered out her thanks, turned away and ran up the stairs. She must get this settled at once and forever, while she had the courage. If she saw Larry now, he must know, must understand that she meant what she had written.

Her keys were in the lock and she had tugged back the door. She stopped short on the threshold. Myra, already wearing the new blue pajamas, was dividing her attention between a bowl of strawberries and the evening newspaper. Molly, dainty as a sprite in the voluminous black pajamas, was curled up on the couch with a book from the library.

No one else was present.

For a moment the surge of relief made Ellen feel actually dizzy. If Myra, in that quick upward look, saw anything amiss, Molly's extravagant praises, of all the new and beautiful clothes and her delight at the things they had chosen for her, covered all other emotion for a space.

"Lovely, lovely, lovely," Molly was babbling. "Myra and I have had everything on and off a dozen times. The bedroom looks like a society bazaar. You should see."

Not until the new clothes, the shopping trip, the visit of the lawyers, not until Mike's rebellion, not until everything that had happened during the day had been discussed, was Ellen given the chance to ask what was in her mind.

"Did I—I have a guest earlier?" Myra and Molly exchanged a glance.

"Why—no," Molly answered. She seemed to puzzle a moment and then she said brightly, "Oh, I know what you mean. You must have seen Mrs. Clancy downstairs. I guess she caught a glimpse of that good-looking young man that called here earlier. He wanted to sell us a set of books. Didn't he stop to see Mrs. Clancy, too?"

"No," Ellen replied. "I guess he didn't stop there."

She was almost certain that Molly had lied. But she was glad that Molly had. The last thing on earth that she wanted was any discussion of Larry Harrowgate.

THE OPEN FORUM

McAllen, Texas,
March 14, 1932

Editor of Daily Dispatch:

I am enclosing a clipping from your issue quoting United Press of 10th inst. which may be generally correct but the clause reading:

"Severe crop damage was reported from a far south as the Rio Grande Valley where several million dollars' damage to fruit crops was expected," is incorrect in its inference, as the cool spell here, when the thermometer rarely went lower than 40 above zero, did no damage to the citrus crop, and only a slight damage to very small vegetables such as beans just out of the ground.

It was one of the latest "cold" spells experienced here in years but fortunately did not get as cold as some of the newspapers reported and it was beneficial in retarding the propagation of destructive insects, etc.

We see very few overcoats and the poor people fared well, which, unfortunately cannot be said of localities farther north. Altogether this valley with its shipments of about 12,000 cars of citrus fruits and vegetables so far this season, has, perhaps, not so much to complain of as many other sections of the country, although it was not satisfied with the low price of the citrus production. However, a more extended use will prove the superiority of its oranges, grape fruit, tangerines, lemons, etc. and if the ridiculous prices realized will so distribute this fruit, the growers will be satisfied to regard this just as an "advertising" year.

Sincerely,
YANCEY BARTHOLOW,
P. O. Box 933, McAllen, Texas

126 Visitors View County Historical Unit Collection

Walter Folsom and Miss Ida M. Peterson of the Folsom Music company assisted President H. I. Cohen in arranging a novel musical feature for yesterday afternoon. Phonograph records were used, calling attention to the "old lumber camps" division of the museum. The records were made for the Brunswick people by an old-time German band of New Ulm. Mr. Cohen dubbed them "Paul Bunyan" numbers, a reference well understood by all who are familiar with lumber jack traditions.

Another record exploits the remarkable voice of Fred Dahlene, now residing at Mille Lac. This young man has a double register vocal equipment. To show the fine quality of his lower register he sings Amy Woodforde Fenden's "Less Than Dust," and then, in a high clear tenor, "The Rosary." As Mr. Cohen says, "This is not ancient history, but we can exploit the interesting features of contemporary history, also, on occasion."

D. W. Gray is a frequent contributor to the museum collection, his gifts being mostly books, photographs and pamphlets. Some time ago he gave a framed photograph of the group who turned the first borrow load of dirt in the construction of the N. P. railway. This week a generous collection included a pamphlet containing a collection of the fables concerning "Paul Bunyan," who styled "America's only hero of fable."

There was a gratifyingly large proportion of children in yesterday's visitors—also young men. For these even a cursory inspection of the museum is bound to result in an increase of interest in their home town and its environs.

The visitors register showed a total attendance of 126 for the afternoon, Mrs. J. G. Heald reported.

Thoughts for Lent

"The Darkness Is Past, and the True Light Now Shines"

(Read I John 2:1-10.)

The pathway of Radiance lies on the road with Christ. This is the basic truth and this is the ultimate fact. It is the primary axiom of the spiritually illumined soul. It is the "given" from which all conclusions must be derived. Questions regarding private conduct, social relationships, economic or political practices, scientific procedure and aesthetic enjoyment, must be answered by the truly enlightened mind from this standpoint. The pathway of Radiance lies on the road with Christ. If the world is still darkened by hatred, and blinded by lust and greed, this is true only because the world persists so long in following other ways than Christ's. As men learn to take His road and to go with Him, they grow accustomed to a life of inward joy and outward capacity for practical helpfulness. Even when their journey takes them to the Calvary of suffering, the Light does not forsake them. No way is dark for those who go with Christ.

Prayer: Help us, O Christ, to walk in Thy way. Lead us by the Light of Thy eternal glory. Abide with us when our feet grow weary, and be patient when our steps are slow. Open our eyes to the vistas that lie beyond all valleys of shadow, and to the ranges which beckon us on through days of toil; and grant, we pray, that whosoever Thy Spirit may bid us follow, our hearts may gladly undertake to go. Amen.

TOO GOOD

"I have come to register the fact that my wife disappeared three days ago."

"Why didn't you register her disappearance at once?"

"Well, for the first few days I could hardly believe it true that she really had gone."—Faun, Vienna.

COVERED BRIDGE TO YIELD TO PROGRESS

ZUMBROTA STRUCTURE, 63 YEARS OLD, LAST OF TYPE IN STATE

Minnesota's only covered bridge, located at Zumbrota, will give way to the march of progress this summer when a new structure is erected in connection with the grading and relocation of trunk highway No. 58, between that city and Red Wing. Bids on the new bridge over the Zumbro river, seven other new bridges, and seven bridge widening jobs, will be opened April 5, Commissioner C. M. Babcock announces.

The wooden covered bridge at Zumbrota was built in 1869. It was built of selected white oak timbers, on a good foundation, doweled with oak pins, and was well maintained by the municipality until the state took it over as part of temporary trunk highway No. 58 in 1921. Since then it has had regular maintenance by the state. The bridge is as sound as when new, but it is wide enough for only one lane of traffic, and loads have been restricted to six tons. The new bridge, a steel truss 150 feet long, will be wide enough for three lanes of traffic.

The list of proposed bridges follows:

T. H. No. 3—At Wabasha, bridge No. 5150, three spans, total length 220 feet, railroad overhead.

T. H. No. 6—North of Beltrami, bridge No. 3856, length 20 feet, and bridge No. 3857, length 16 feet, widening jobs.

South of Warren, bridge No. 3933, length 15 feet, widening.

North of Crookston, bridges No. 3882, 3883, 3884, length 23 feet, widening.

T. H. No. 7—Southwest of Stockton, bridge No. 5194, length 33 feet.

T. H. No. 8—East of Crookston, bridge No. 5192, length 60 feet.

South of Floodwood, bridge No. 5216, length 65 feet.

T. H. No. 19—North of Wilkinson, bridge No. 5214, length 65 feet.

South of Wilkinson, bridge No. 5215, length 30 feet.

T. H. No. 58—At Zumbrota, bridge No. 5188, length 150 feet.

T. H. No. 59—At Stewartville, bridge No. 3026, five 40-foot spans, widening.

T. H. No. 72—South of Baudette, bridge No. 5218, length 120 feet.

The role of the scarf is all important in a spring ensemble, says Jean Patou. With a black wool suit (left) the necessary touch of color is supplied by the white toile de laine scarf dotted black. The dot itself is repeated in the beret which is fashioned of red and white suede leather, where the dots are alternately white on the red background and black on the white. ROOSEVELT NAMED PUBLIC'S GREATEST ALLY BY LEAGUE

SURVEY OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES COMPARING POSITIONS ON POWER MADE

Washington, March 21.—(UP)—A survey of presidential candidates comparing their positions on the power question has been prepared by the National Popular Government league. It names Governor Franklin Roosevelt of New York as the public's greatest ally in this particular matter.

An accompanying statement by 15 senators and 22 representatives declared the power question would be the major issue in the presidential campaign this year. The statement did not pledge the signers to support the league's rating of candidates on the power issue.

Among the signers were Senators Nye and Frazier, Reps., N. D., and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, and Representatives Amie and Schneider, Reps., Wis.; Christgau and Selvig, Reps., Minn.; J. H. Sinclair, Rep., N. D., and Kvale, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota.

Taking eight phases of the power question, Judson King, director of the league, listed each candidate as for or against public interest. Roosevelt was listed as for the public on all eight.

President Hoover was said to be for the public interest on one phase, against it on six, and silent on the other. Speaker Garner of the house was rated as for the public on two and silent on six. Alfred B. Smith was listed for the public on 2½, for private interests 1½, silent on four. Newton D. Baker of Ohio was rated as for the public on one phase, against it on six and silent on one. Governor Ritchie of Maryland, given the lowest rating of all from the public standpoint, was said to be for private interests on seven points and silent on the eighth.

WATERPOWER UNITS TO UTILITIES GROUP

New York, March 21.—(UP)—The bulk of the waterpower properties owned or controlled by the International Paper Co. in the United States has been purchased by the International Hydro-electric system for $31,700,000, it was announced today.

The properties involved include the important powers on the Hudson river, having a potential capacity of 450,000 horsepower, of which 130,000 horsepower is developed, the announcement said.

This acquisition raises the International Hydro-electric system to the position of the world's third largest owner of hydro-electrically developed power, with installed hydro-electric generating capacity of 1,248,000 horsepower.

The properties, the announcement said, carry with them sufficient revenue from the powers already developed to make them immediately self-supporting and to produce some additional net earnings for dividends on stocks of the international system.

CONSIDER UNDERGROUND CONSTRUCTION THIS YEAR; T. H. 2 PAVING PROBABLE 1932

Faces Grill in Kidnaping

Police are reported closing in on Martin Depew, hunted since last December in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Nell Q. Donnelly, wealthy Kansas City garment manufacturer, who was released before a ransom was collected. If Kansas City police capture Depew he will be questioned on the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, authorities state.

With the probability existing that State Trunk Highway No. 2 in Brainerd and from Brainerd to Ironton will be paved in 1933, the Brainerd city council last night instructed the street committee to investigate what work must be done in underground construction. Main street is chiefly affected.

The council was informed by letter from the Minnesota Highway Department that paving of the highway is contemplated seriously for 1933. The department suggested that it would be desirable for the city of Brainerd to do such sewer or water main construction or service connections as necessary this year as it would be well to have all underground work complete the year prior to the start of paving.

City Engineer R. T. Campbell suggested in this connection that it would be wise to plan at the earliest possible time whatever work would be necessary underground also to plan the construction of curbs.

The underground project involving the greatest expense is the proposed construction of a storm sewer in the second ward extending on Main street. City Engineer Campbell estimated the cost of the storm sewer at $42,000. He said he had not completed the distribution of cost per lot affected.

Is Your Gasoline Tax Money BUILDING GOOD ROADS OR ENRICHING RACKETEERS?

You pay a tax on every gallon of gasoline you buy. Your state levies this tax to pay for building good roads.

But your state is not getting all the money paid as a gasoline tax. RACKETEERS ARE TAKING AN ALARMING AMOUNT OF IT! They are selling bootlegged gasoline on which they pay the state no tax—but they make motorists pay all or a part of the tax. The racketeer keeps this tax money himself!

You get your tax back in the form of good roads when the state collects the tax. You get nothing when racketeers get your money. And remember—if your state got all the money paid as tax, it could well afford to lower its gasoline tax!

If you want your money to go into road building instead of into the racketeers' pockets, make sure the gasoline you buy is not bootlegged. Buy gasoline made by a reliable, law-abiding company and sold under a dependable, well-known brand name, and be certain that your tax money goes to your state and not to the racketeers. That's the only way to beat the racketeers.

CONOCO Gasoline is a branded gasoline you can buy with safety at the sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle.

N. B. A. MOVES TO PURGE BOXING GAME OF FAKE FIGHTS

Carleton Faces Loss of Arney and Taylor From College Athletics

FAKE FIGHT TO BRING SUSPENSION OF ALL PARTIES INVOLVED

Chicago, March 22.—(U.P.)—The National Boxing Association has started a campaign to cleanse the boxing game of fake fights, unequal contests and crooked work. Gen. John V. Clinin, N. B. A. president, announced in the regular weekly bulletin.

"Whenever it is found that a 'ringer' or fake fight is foisted on the public all parties to the affair will be suspended for life, thereby cleansing the sport of these parasites who would destroy boxing as a sport for their personal gain or to build up a false reputation of ability for their boxer," said the bulletin.

General Clinin said his attention had been called to certain managers who were attempting to make a "racket" out of the boxing game by matching inferior boxers with contenders, and even going so far as to arrange matches with a "full understanding between the contestants beforehand."

Investigation of a bout involving Mickey Walker at Salt Lake City on March 11 was one of the reasons for the N. B. A. action, Gen. Clinin said.

WILLING MIXERS TO FETE FANS AS BAT MEETS PETROLLE

New York, March 22.—(U.P.)—Opposites attract—the paying customers. That's why they're throwing Bat Battalino and Billy Petrolle in the Madison Square Garden pit Thursday night in a scramble that's got the boys and girls along Le Boulevard St. Cauliflower walking in large, graceful circles.

If you don't think they're dead opposites—the Bat and Bill the Kid—watch 'em climb through the ropes and get going!

Battalino, taut as a fiddle string, hops through the middle and top strands in one bound, just a-aching to get in and unwind. Billy, his old horse blanket draped around his shoulders, takes his own sweet time, picking his way through the ropes like an old maid going through a barb wire fence.

The clapper is hardly off the bell before Bat is out of his corner and scattering punches to the four winds. Billy rises slowly off his stool, and shuffles toward his man, his eyes nothing but slits beneath those scared brows. The Bat is always on the go, crowding, jostling, swarming all over Billy in an attempt to keep him from getting set for one of those "goodnight sweetheart" punches of his.

Petrolle keeps moving in, too, but in that slow, flat-footed slide. If Bat drops Billy it probably will be with a punch he started with no idea where it would land. If Billy drops Bat it probably will be with a punch that took advantage of a split second opening. If Bat drops Billy, Billy'll probably get up. If Billy drops Bat, Bat'll snore. There are no "probabys" about the old man's right and left.

CHARGE TWO STARS WITH PLAY UNDER ASSUMED NAMES

Northfield, Minn., March 22.—(U.P.)—Two outstanding stars of the championship Carleton college basketball team today faced a ban which would deprive them of eligibility to partake in any further college athletics.

The athletes, Donald Taylor, captain-elect, and Dick Arney, star forward, are charged with having violated a Midwest conference rule barring all athletes who have played under assumed names for the rest of their college careers.

Both players were expected to play prominent parts in their college basketball team's lineup. Arney, likewise, is a star golfer.

Professor J. Edward Todd of Carleton, president of the Midwest conference, said that he was investigating the case only "on the reports in the newspapers."

The charges grew out of a newspaper account of a basketball game between Arlington and Chaska on March 13. The newspaper story said that Arney and Taylor had played with the Arlington team under assumed names. Arney was alleged to have called himself "Basel" while Taylor was called "Sharping."

Because of the playing ability of the Carleton athletes, Arlington had built up a 21 to 5 lead at the half time, the paper said. Coach Al Mooney of Chaska became suspicious of the two and checked up on their identity.

Chaska immediately protested the game and the Arlington team was Princeton, N. J., March 22.—(U.P.)—Appointment of Earl Martineau, former backfield coach at Purdue, as assistant football coach at Princeton, was announced last night by Dr. Charles R. Kennedy, chairman of the Princeton board of athletic control.

Martineau, regarded as one of the finest halfbacks ever graduated from Minnesota, will assist Herbert O. Crisler starting April 4.

Australian Wonder Horse Suffers Bruised Foot

Agua Caliente, March 22.—(U.P.)—Phar Lap, Australian conqueror who won the $50,000 Agua Caliente handicap Sunday, suffered from a bruised foot today which may prevent his participation in the $2500 added Agua Caliente consolation cup next week end.

Phar Lap struck his foot against a concrete step while being crowned with flowers following his victory. Not used to flowers, for in Australia they use ribbons, Phar Lap protested and did a bit of stamping around.

Trainer Woodcock said the bruise was not serious, but would prevent him from galloping for a day or two. The horse will be taken to the Hamilton H. Cotton ranch, near San Clemente, to rest.

ruled out of the Minnesota valley independent tournament.

Arney scored 184 points in Midwest conference play while Taylor scored 104 points. Each was expected to play next year.

IOWA STATE MENTORREPORTED IN ACCORD WITH WISCONSIN OVER COACHING POSITION

Madison, Wis., March 22.—(U.P.)—Announcement of the appointment of George Veenker, Iowa State college football coach, to a similar position at the University of Wisconsin was expected from the board of regents today.

Veenker conferred secretly with university authorities, who withheld announcement of their offer until Veenker accepted.

In 1927, at the death of Ed Mather, its basketball and assistant football coach, Michigan called Veenker to take over the duties. His basketball team won the undisputed Big Ten championship in the season of 1928-29, and tied Wisconsin for the title the following season.

Last year Veenker was hired by Iowa State at Ames, Ia., which had not won a football game in three years. Veenker's football team won five out of eight games, losing its only conference game to Nebraska. It finished second in the Missouri Valley conference standings.

Bradenton, Fla., March 22.—Jimmy Collins is making a strong bid for Chick Hafey's left field job with the champion St. Louis Cardinals. When the Yankees won yesterday 11 to 3, Collins turned in a dazzling catch of a long drive, and drove in a run with a double.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 22.—A young high school boy by the name of Brown was the toast of the Boston Braves camp today. Young Brown pitched six innings during the Braves' 2 to 0 triumph over Brooklyn Robins yesterday and allowed but one hit.

Savannah, Ga., March 22.—Trish Sigman, 1930 batting sensation of the Phillies, has been signed by the Boston Red Sox. Sigman played with Peoria in the Three Eye league last year. The Yankigans posted another defeat on the regulars yesterday, winning 3 to 1.

Tampa, Fla., March 22.—Babe Herman, slugging outfielder, was officially a member to the Cincinnati Reds today. He signed a contract late last night, after a lengthy conference with President Sidney Weil. Herman said he was perfectly satisfied with the salary given him. Terms of the agreement were not announced.

Ft. Meyers, Fla., March 22.—Mickey Cochrane will be lost to the Philadelphia Athletics for the remainder of the training season. Cochrane has been forced to the sidelines with an infected foot, caused when he aggravated a blister. The Athletics defeated the Cincinnati Reds 7 to 4 yesterday. Ed Coleman, rookie outfielder from the coast, was the batting star getting a home run and a double.

San Antonio, Tex., March 22.—The Chicago White Sox made a total of eight errors in the first two and a half innings of yesterday's Regular-Yanigan game. The regulars won 9 to 7.

Los Angeles, March 22.—New York's Giants made it two in a row over Detroit Tigers yesterday, 12 to 8. The crowd became highly excited in the eighth inning when Walker, Detroit outfielder, collided with Catcher Healey at the plate, closing Healey's eye and cutting his nose.

Jackie Fields to Defend Title in Chicago April 15

Chicago, March 22.—(U.P.)—Jackie Fields of Los Angeles, welterweight champion, will defend his title at Chicago stadium April 15. Matchmaker Nate Lewis announced today. Lewis said the challenger probably will be the winner of the Billy Petrolle-Bat Battalino bout at New York Thursday night.

Lewis has verbal agreements from managers of both Petrolle and Battalino for the Fields bout and planned to leave for New York today or tomorrow to obtain signed articles.

An effort was made to obtain Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B. C., as challenger but he demanded an excessive end of the purse.

CADETS WIN RIFLE GALLERY FIRING

Another rifle match was promoted by the Snelling Rifle Club at the Y. M. C. A. gym Saturday night, when the local cadets met the Hi-Y club for a gallery firing. The Snelling club won by a score of 412 to 322, the Hi-Y being 569.

Who shot for the Hi-Y club were: Osell, R. Sheflo, W. Plummer, J. Herman and L. Holman.

DENY BANK AIDED SMITH'S 1928 DRIVE

New York, March 21.—(U.P.)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Orie L. Kelly, president of the County Trust Company, have denied that the bank contributed to Alfred E. Smith's 1928 campaign fund.

Raskob is a director of the bank. Smith is chairman of the board. James J. Riordan, who killed himself was president of the bank at the time of his death.

The original charge was made in connection with a defense against a $20,000 note held by the bank, one of several notes totalling $255,000 reported to be likewise involved.

Patrick F. Kenny, Yonkers plumbing contractor, who signed the note and was sued by the bank for non-payment, claimed it represented a contribution to the campaign fund by the bank. He said he and several others signed similar notes to get around the law forbidding such a campaign contribution by such an institution. The note was endorsed by Raskob.

Raskob's statement, telephoned to a representative here from his country home in Maryland, said:

"Both as chairman of the democratic national committee and as a director of the County Trust Company I know that the defense claimed against the Trust Company by Mr. P. F. Kenny is entirely false."

Kenny absolved Smith of any knowledge of the transaction.

SENIOR CLASS CHOOSES 'CAP AND GOWN' FOR COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

TO ELIMINATE EXPENSE OF EXTRA GRADUATION CLOTHES

At a class meeting held Friday afternoon the members of the Senior class definitely voted and picked the cap and gown which will be worn by this year's graduating class. Four models, Dorothy Kinney, Lily Larson, Elmer Foster and Leslie Dryburg, displayed the samples sent from the various companies bidding for the class order.

The gown selected for this year is one submitted by the Cotel Leonard company of Albany, New York. It is dark grey in color and of heavy wool material. The only difference between those worn by the boys and those by the girls is the additional white collar attached to the girl's gown. This collar is to be furnished by the company.

The cost of the outfit is to be two dollars per student. All measurements are to be taken here at the school and sent to the company. Each student's gown will come in an individual shipping carton with his name and measurements pasted on the outside. The price entitles each student to have the gown during the entire graduation week.

Of all years this is the year when caps and gowns should be worn by the graduating class. It eliminates the necessity of buying a new dress or a new suit and the gray colored gowns will give uniformity to the entire graduation.

HI-Y TROUNCED
BY AITKIN HI-YLOCAL BOYS ARE DEFEATED BY
17 TO 8 IN HARD
BATTLE

On March 17, in honor of St. Patrick's day the Hi-Y basketball team journeyed to Aitkin to play the Aitkin Hi-Y team. The team composed of the following members played during the game: Robert Crust, manager; Bruce Paine, Dwight Curo, Robert Ebert, Myles Hall, Clayton Peterson, Donald Hanson, Ferdinand Fredrickson, and James Falconer. Mr. Peterson, the adviser of the club, went up on the train but returned with James Falconer in his car.

The first game was played between the Aitkin Junior High School and the second of the Aitkin Hi-Y, the final score being two and two. These teams were very evenly matched and proved to be a very interesting game. The Hi-Y started their game at 8 o'clock. These teams also played a very exciting game and the crowd appreciated the attempts of both teams. The home team was defeated but they made a very valiant attempt to overcome the well-trained Aitkin quint, the final score being 7 and 14.

The journey was fairly cold but they all looked healthy the next morning in school, none the worse for the trip.

ANN'S AIM

Gerry Lein seems to enjoy violin playing. We think he could have saved two bits and listen to Harriet practice. We wonder who Perry Luke's new flame is this week?

Miles Hall has finally taken Miss Liapple's advice to grow up as he is often seen with Isabelle Musoff.

The mystery of the missing paper was finally solved by Messrs. Taylor, Dammen, Sculer, Melby and with the aid of Miss Coffield.

Florence Jones seems to spend most of her time on third floor near Mr. Squier's room. We wonder why? Certain girls haven't succeeded in hiding from Mr. Penrose's 6th period assembly.

Harold Strickler and Barbara Zappfe have escaped the public eye long enough.

MOVE DIVERT FARM LOAN FUNDS FINANCE
WHEAT, COTTON SALES ABROAD DEVELOPS

Washington, March 21.—(U.P.)—A bipartisan drive was developing today against the administration plan to divert $100,000,000 of farm loan funds to finance sales of surplus wheat and cotton abroad.

Farm board officials promise there would be no "dumping," but some senators believe the administration scheme would break wheat and cotton markets. Senator Norris, Rep. Neb., said the plan "looks like a deception of funds set aside for farmers in distress."

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Chairman Stone of the farm board suggested the foreign sales campaign. Stone believes large amounts of surplus American crops could be sold abroad, particularly in the Orient, if long-term credits could be arranged. To provide these credits, they want to use half of the $200,000,000 reconstruction corporation fund which congress set aside for loans to farmers.

Only $75,000,000 for farm loans has been made available by the corporation so far, Senator Smith, Dem., S. C., has obtained senate approval of a resolution directing that the remaining $125,000,000 be put up at once. That measure is pending before the house agriculture committee where the administration first sought to kill it.

YE EDITOR

NOTICE — There will be no publication of the Brainerd during the Easter vacation, the next will appear on Tuesday, April 5.

WHY THE DEFEACEMENT?

Who is trying to deface our building by tearing down the banister and otherwise destroying the school? Our school is only a little over three years old and its appearance should be almost as new for age has little effect in such a short time. We should appreciate the wonderful building we have for a school and students should have the loyalty to report anyone who destroys or defaces our place of learning.

EFFORT—SUCCESS

The senior class may look with pride on their successful class play presented last Wednesday. The efforts of the entire cast, advisers, stage hands, and others who helped produce the play made it the success it was acclaimed. As for the cast their audibility and acting was beyond comparison. The band with their selections between acts and before the play were quite acceptable.

TRI-HI GIRLS ARE UNDECIDED ABOUT
ENTERTAINMENTLACK OF FUNDS MAY MAKE
MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BAN-QUET IMPOSSIBLE

A very large attendance proved to make the Tri-Hi business meeting, Monday night, at the usual hour, a very satisfactory one.

Due to the depression, the girls are in doubt as to whether or not they will be able to sponsor a Mother and Daughter banquet. As a definite conclusion was not reached, a committee consisting of Genevieve Tweet, Clarice Olson and Dorothy Kinney was left to decide what kind of entertainment is to be put on for the mothers. The meeting, at which Mr. Wyett will be the main speaker, was set for March 28. A large attendance is expected.

All girls who are not graduating this year are thinking about the new members and will vote on them some time in the near future. The annual week end party was set for May 13, 14 and 15.

TRACK BOYS WARM UP FOR COMING SPRING SPORTS EVENTS

With the completion of the basketball season track coach, Ben Taylor, has started the "ball rolling" for what appears to be a most successful field year.

Because of the late spring, the fellows have not started on their more strenuous outdoor workouts.

"Training, at the present time is concentrated on the relay team which will represent the school at the Central Minnesota meet," said Taylor in a recent interview. "There will be practically no individual enterprises as discuss hurling, pole vaulting, etc., except the high jump, undoubtedly to be represented in Brainerd by Captain Bill Holman."

The personnel of the squad will be the same as that which recently represented the school in cage encounters. The big blonde McCleary will undoubtedly do "century," while the Wygles, Bob and Gerry, will take the hurdles and pole vault respectively. Foster will have the javelin and discus, while the shot put is still unsettled.
